

Real Estate Law

From the ground up.

Montgomery, Goff & Bullis is a team of experienced real estate professionals that represent banks, purchasers, sellers, landlords and tenants. Additionally, we have a regional practice assisting land owners with all aspects of real estate development including land planning, construction, zoning and entitlement of real estate. Our attorneys are experienced in representing land owners with governmental and regulatory issues. The vast majority of real estate transfers take place without problems. However, if you have a transaction that develops legal problems, an experienced real estate lawyer can provide a smooth transition from transaction to litigation. Our real estate experience gives us insight into how to pursue our clients' goals and protect our clients' interests. When you need a real estate attorney, contact us to discuss how we can help you.
